

ACROSS THE FENCE

August 28, 2022

While we may not be going back to school, we can start fresh and clean out the old papers to shred at our Community Happening on Wednesday. If you miss school, we do have classes. Ready to try something new? There will be demonstrations of our fitness class at the Happening that you can sample. It is all free and fun!

We are reliant on an amazing team of volunteers to help at all of our events as well as help our members directly. If you are interested in volunteering with us, come to our Volunteer Orientation on September 14 and find out ways that you might be able to help your neighbors. In-Home Peer Support Program

This unique city-wide program employs DC residents 50 years+ as part-time Peer Support Workers, to provide in-home support to DC residents 60 years+.

Would you like to have a peer support person come to your home? Iona Senior Services is piloting a program to run to the end of December which will match you with a paid peer support worker to come to your home for conversation, companionship and assist with minor in-home tasks (take out the trash, put dishes away, help organize a pantry), technology assistance, and grocery shopping. There will be no cost to you for having a peer support worker.

The other half of the program is recruiting peer support workers who are required to be 50+ themselves. Hours are flexible and training, as well as weekly meetings with an Iona supervisor, will provide guidance and support for the peer support workers.

This pilot program will run until December 31, 2022.

More information is available on this flyer. Or you can join Gabrielle Boccher, the program manager, on September 7 at 3:00 p.m. on Zoom to learn more! Register at Around Town DC.

ART THURSDAY: WE ARE MADE OF STORIES: SELF-TAUGHT ARTISTS IN THE ROBSON FAMILY COLLECTION -- We Are Made of Stories is a fascinating exhibit currently on view at the Smithsonian American Art Museum. We are fortunate to be able to bring this exhibit into your homes via Zoom courtesy of the Education Department of SAAM. We Are Made of Stories traces the rise of self-taught artists in the twentieth century and examines how, despite wide-ranging societal, racial, and gender-based obstacles, their creativity and bold self-definition became major forces in American art. The exhibition showcases forty-three artists whose work was admired and collected by Margaret Z. Robson (1932–2014). Margaret valued their artworks and personal stories, believing both offered a truer, more complete portrait of our nation's makers and redefined who could be an artist in America. Register here.

Thursday, September 8, 11 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Creative Wellbeing in Later Life - People over the age of sixty-five now outnumber those under the age of five for the first time in human history. Nevertheless, more older adults suffer from feelings of loneliness, boredom, and helplessness. However, older adults who maintain or adopt an art- or music-making practice often experience greater satisfaction in their lives. In this presentation, folklorist Jon Kay shares observations from more than twenty-five years of documenting the expressive lives of elders. Register here.

Friday, September 9, 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.

American Women and the Fight For Equality: 1920-2020 - The 19th Amendment was an incomplete victory. Black and white women fought hard for voting rights and doubled the number of eligible voters, but the amendment did not enfranchise all women, or even protect the rights of those women who could vote. A century later, women are still grappling with how to use the vote and their political power to expand civil rights, confront racial violence, improve maternal health, advance educational and employment opportunities, and secure reproductive rights. Register here.
